Group Contract

Group Responsibilities

The success of any team depends on the professional commitment and contributions of every individual member. By joining a group, you enter a collective partnership where the results reflect shared effort. While all members benefit from the group's success, each person is expected to earn that success through consistent, high-quality work.

The Team Contract

To ensure clarity and accountability, every team must submit a Group Contract. This document serves as your operational roadmap and covers several critical areas:

- Role Definition: How tasks and responsibilities are assigned among members.
- Communication Protocols: Established methods for members to contact one another and share updates.
- Accountability & Consequences: Predefined steps to take when a member fails to meet their deadlines or responsibilities.
- Academic Integrity: Guidelines for accurately attributing credit for work completed and ensuring no credit is given for work that was not performed.

Contract Approval Process

A template is provided for your convenience, and you are encouraged to modify it to suit your team's specific dynamic. However, the process remains formal:

1. Draft & Edit: Update the template to meet your team's needs.
2. Sign the Form: Every team member must initial all sections and sign the form.
3. Upload to GitHub: Once finished, upload the document to your repository.
